BREAKTHROUGH FOR YOUTH—SCOUT LEADERS NEEDED

Your special attention is called to the need for adults to serve on different committees for Scouts. Men and women are needed to serve as committee on Boy Scouts, Cub Scouts and Explorers and women as Den Mothers.

Adults of Bethel who want to establish a goal to assure a successful year ahead in Scouting should help do their part.

Most all Scouting units across America are going way out to help and do more for boyhood in keeping with the needs of the day.

These units in Bethel can get out and be on top if mother and fathers will spend a little time for the boys or Scouts.

Thanks to Don Walker who has spent three years as Cubmaster. He has done an excellent job and has spent a lot of time also the Den Mothers that have worked with him.

Now there are boys that want to get Cub Scouts started, so a Cubmaster and an assistant, some more Den Mothers and committee men on all three Scout Units are needed. So let's all help and send or call your name in to Ernest Perkins, Scout Neighborhood Commissioner, Mason St., Bethel, Maine.

Bert Grover underwent surgery on Wednesday at the V. A. Hospital, Togus.

REPORT SLIP SYSTEM AT TELSTAR REGIONAL EXPLAINED

Courses or selections at Telstar Regional High School have been developed around a series of units. Marks will be issued at the completion of these units rather than at regular six or nine-week intervals, according to Richard Vaughan, Telstar principal. The number of weeks of the unit will vary, depending on the amount of material covered within it.

Instead of the traditional rank card, parents should expect a colored report slip listing the student's name, date, subject, grade in school, mark in the course, and the unit number. In addition, information is provided concerning the student's class performance in such areas as attention in class, depth of understanding, completeness of assignments, motivation, work habits, and acceptance of responsibility. One copy of this report will be given to the parents and one will remain on file in the general office. As noted on each report slip, conferences by appointment with the teachers and guidance counselors are encouraged at Telstar. Using these methods of communication, school officials hope to keep parents better informed of their children's progress.

NO INJURY IN TRUCK MISHAP LAST THURSDAY

In a highway mishap that left a Cushman Baking Co. tractor-trailer lying on its side off the road last Thursday evening, no personal injuries were reported. Damage to the truck and contents was estimated at from $1500 to $2000. The unit, going towards Bethel, left the road near the Clyde Stevens residence in South Bethel.

The driver, Merwine E. Jasper of South Windham, apparently lost control of the vehicle after it left the road surface and struck the soft shoulder.

The accident was investigated by State Trooper Gerald Smith. Assisting were Deputy Sheriff George Gilbert and Bethel Police Chief Joseph Smallwood.

AREA CHURCHES TO HOLD MISSIONARY CONFERENCE

Two area churches, the Church of the Open Bible in Bethel, and Calvary Congregational Church in Andover, are sponsoring a combined conference this coming week, Sunday, Oct. 6, through Wednesday, Oct. 9.

Rev. Murray L. Dawson

The missionaries participating are Rev. Murray L. Dawson, General Secretary of the Japan Evangelical Mission, and Rev. Robert E. Hawkins, a missionary working under Unevangelized Fields Mission in Guyana.

Rev. Hawkins has been for 20 years with the Waiwai Indians. "Christ's Witchdoctor," is a well known book about a witchdoctor in this tribe who became a Christian. It may be borrowed from Pastor Milton Gross.

Sunday will begin the conference with Rev. Dawson speaking at the Church of the Open Bible at 11:00 a. m. and at Calvary Congregational Church at 7 p. m. Monday evening both men will be in Bethel at 7:00. Tuesday afternoon a special youth program will be held at 4 p. m. in Andover followed by a 5:30 supper and a teen-age discussion forum at 7 p. m. Adults are also invited to the Tuesday evening supper and discussion and this would be an excellent time to ask questions. The closing meeting will be in Bethel at 7 p. m.

RUMFORD HOSPITAL FAIR TO BE HELD OCT. 17

The 31st annual fair for the benefit of the Rumford Community Hospital will be held Thursday, Oct. 17, at the Rumford Armory.

The 1968 Ford Falcon for which donations are being accepted and which will be awarded at the fair, will be shown at Buswell's IGA Friday, Oct. 4, from 9:30 to 5. Tickets on the car and on the Bethel booth prizes of Ski-Doo suit, from Ernest Angevine's; buckle ski boots, from Sun Ri Ski Shop; Barbie Doll and clothes, and Johnny West, will be available at the store during this time.

At the last meeting of the Bethel Auxiliary, it was voted to purchase a DeViblliss Ultrasonic Nebulizer for the pediatric ward of the Rumford Community Hospital. This machine is the finest of its kind. It produces a large volume of extremely dense particles of moisture which works far better than those of conventional aerosol generators. This is done by utilization of high frequency sound waves produced in large volume. The administration expects the machine to have constant usage by children with chronic lung diseases and other bronchial disorders. It is portable and can be used anywhere in the hospital.

The next meeting of the Bethel Auxiliary will be held at Mrs. Samuel Bigelow's at 8 p. m. on Oct. 14.

Seventy-three Senior Citizens accepted an invitation for a luncheon on Wednesday of this week at the Bethel Inn. Mr. and Mrs. Blaine Moores were the cordial hosts and many of the guests were having the pleasure of their first visit.

GREENWOOD CITY

— Mrs. Colista Morgan, Corres. —

Spring is a lovely maiden; summer a radiant bride; but autumn is a tomboy whose occasional quietness is more alarming than his noisiest escapades.

(Roger Wray)

As I look to the hills from my yard and feel the coolness of the breeze it is a reminder that autumn is here.

The woods soon will be alive with color, scarlet, gold, and deep somber maroon. Autumn with its brilliant mantle flung over all.

These leaves—so fragile and tender, how do they resist wind, rain, sun, and frost day upon day?

As I listen to the language of the wind and look toward Patch Mountain where the shadows constantly change, I am reminded of my trip some time ago over it and to Furlong Pond nestled among the changing foliage. Here the clouds cast their shadows in swimming sunshine. The wind no doubt today, is so boisterous and tingling that it would seem almost visible. Its voice is no longer soft and caroling as on a summer afternoon nor a low wail of melancholy rain but carries an undertone like hushed tuning of an instrument before symphony.

This Patch Mountain section is a reminder of Colonial days. The early pioneers built their farm homes on the mountain tops instead of in the valleys to keep above the heavy frosts.

tain is where our township was begun by William Yates; his first home, a log cabin, years later he had the first frame house in Greenwood.

The Furlong home was near the Crystal Caves where later passed the old County Road which led to Canada. The ruins of this home could be seen as late as 1955 with lilacs and lilies about, a proof that these early settlers loved their gardens.

Three generations of Furlongs occupied the old homestead during the greater part of the nineteenth century.

In 1965 Colonel C. Wellington Furlong was living in Hanover, N. H., consultant to Stefanson Collection, Dartmouth College. He was an explorer, author, painter, and lecturer, and was twice cited for the Distinguished Service Medal. He was the son of Atherton B. Furlong, born in 1849, who was a distinguished musician and painter. His voice was heard throughout Europe, and its wonderful qualities won for him the highest recognition. He was also widely known in both America and England as a painter of landscapes and animal life.

So with land marks like Uncle Tom Mountain, Furlong Pond, the Patch Mountain School House, now here in the City, which Isaac Patch Furlong may have helped to build and undoubtedly attended by Atherton B. Furlong, one finds covered with history if one but searches to obtain it.

In these little pioneer settlements when days were still and clear, over the distant hills could be seen vertical pencil markings of blue smoke rising above or over the roofs.

The road wound away into the distance like a thread laid down at random.

Now the same autumn foliage flings out its brilliant man-le of rose, scarlet and gold over these same hills, soon to fade until the tall pines, the hemlocks, and spruces with their spires seem to become masters of the land; while here and there an oak clings to its dry plum colored leaves.

These homes have gone, but the history, the beauty, and the peace yet live on because through leafy underbrush an old road leads.

Now overgrown with vagrant grass and weeds.

High centers rise between the well-worn tracks.

Where many wheels upheld their heavy packs.

Where horses, one time, pranced or trot along —

Roads now untraveled by the hurried throng.

Those were the days when simple joys brought thrills.

Like trails that led into the distant hills.

Where curving roadways turned to cottage lights.

That glowed with welcome on the winter nights.

Where friendliness was ample to outweigh

The rush and bustle of the present day.

Is something lost one cannot know again?

That peaceful living in the lives of men. (Agnes Bond)

METHODIST CAMPOUT

The Senior MYF, under the leadership of David Hanson, president, will leave Bethel on foot this Friday afternoon at 4
p. m., and they will hike to the former Bond Estate which is now owned by Mr. and Mrs. Francis Berry of Bethel. The youth will then cookout and camp overnight on the grounds. Rev. George Stebbins and one other adult cha-perrone will tag along.

A belief in error, but no mortal testimony is founded on the divine rock. Mortal testimony can be shaken. Until belief becomes faith, and faith becomes spiritual understanding, human thought has little relation to the actual or divine.

Christ Scientist, Main and Tenth

BARRACKS & AUXILIARY

A pot luck supper was held at the Legion Hall Tuesday evening. Twenty-one were in attendance. Supper committee was Rose Taylor, Frances Bennett and meeting followed the supper.

The Auxiliary meeting opened with President Selma Chapman presiding. Thirteen members and eight officers answered the roll call. An invitation was read stating that a reception was being held for State President Elmira

was suggested so a check was voted and will be sent.

An Area Council will be held at Togus on Sunday, Oct. 6. It will be in the Administration Building at 2 p. m.

Agnes Chase gave a report on the Conference held at Exeter, N.

of Maine. It was well attended.

Forbes, Selma Chapman, Agnes
Chase and Adeline Dexter.

It was reported that Bert Grover and Bill Danforth were still

mond Harrington, and Miss Barbara Hutchinson of Norway, were

ANTARCTIC SERVICE MEDALS
Antarctic service medals for participation in the Antarctic Research Program have been presented to University of Maine
faculty members Dr. Harold W.
Borns Jr., associate professor of geological sciences; and Dr. John H. Dearborn, assistant professor of zoology. Both have spent many months participating in Antarctic
research, both at McMurdo Sound and the Baffin Island area.

back walking miles to his little grass hut to kindle a fire to make a meal of tortillas or corn for the family—you wonder how we have the audacity to complain—and riot!

We met little children who gathered around our car and begged for a penny! If they are lucky enough to go to school and be taught to write they will use that pencil until they can no longer hold it in that poor little fist.

I cannot say enough for our Peace Corps! It must be made up of the finest men and women that America holds. They go into a country and live with the people as they live and try to help and comfort them. At the end of their work day—there is no hot shower, no steak dinner,
no clean starched clothes to jump into to drive off to the theatre or a show. For two years they live as the people live—and the people we met, who have so little by our standards, laugh a lot,
dance a lot, and they thank God daily for what they have! Do we?

U-M ENROLLS 9,030
FOR FALL SEMESTER
A total of 9,030 students registered for fall semester classes
at the Orono, Portland and Augusta campuses of the University of Maine. This total exceeds last year's figures by 650 students and will be swelled by late registra-

students enrolling in Continuing Education courses.

TO HAVE MEETINGS ON WEIGHT CONTROL
The first of a series of meetings on weight control will be held at the home of Mrs. Colwyn Haskell, on Friday, Oct. 4, at 1:30.
The meetings are under the supervision of Mrs. Ruth DeCoteau of the Oxford County Extension Service.

All those interested in participating in this group are urged to attend.

P. F. TO MEET SUNDAY
The new P. F.—a group that's going places.
Is life just the same as last year in more ways than you wish? Would you like to be in a group where your ideas count and where things are done as well as talked about?

That group is being formed.
You are invited to a cook out
at Ted Chadbourne's Sunday, Oct. 6, at 5:00 p. m. The P.F.'s season will begin then. You will eat, talk and participate in a short experimental worship around the fire. For transportation meet at the Congregational Church at 5 p. m.

We can't tell you what we'll do this year—that's up to you and your desires. A trip is planned for early November. Some service projects and meeting ideas have been discussed. You come offer your thoughts and tell us what you want. This is your chance to be part of an action group—an active part.

WOODSTOCK

This is an age when much is heard about stocks, bonds and investments. The members in the South Woodstock Seventh-day Adventist Sabbath School hear about and do a lot with Investment—Investment for Missions.

In the Junior-Primary Department much enthusiasm is shown when a dollar is brought by some one because it means a new cookie will be added to the cookie jar. Each class has a large cookie jar and a cardboard cookie represents $1. Already the jars are half filled which represents $75. With 6 weeks more before "Investment Sabbath" it is hoped $100 will be raised.

This money is raised by the children themselves by selling soda pop bottles, selling garden produce, running errands or baby sitting. Instead of spending it for candy or drinks they bring it to Sabbath School for missions. They are learning that, "It is more blessed to give than to receive."

The 13th Sabbath offering amounted to $90.00.

for an attractive early fall wedding Saturday afternoon, Sept. 28, when Miss Brenda Alyce Glover, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Verne W. Glover, Buxton, formerly of Rumford and Mexico, became the bride of Rodney Arthur Anderson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Anderson, also of Buxton. Rev. Glenn Swope officiated at the double ring ceremony. Mrs. Helen Matthews was organist.

The bride was given in marriage by her father and mother. Her gown was an empire silhouette of Angelina peau. Chantilly lace forms a gently scooped, necklined blouse with short scalloped sleeves. The A-line skirt and removable chapel train featured lace accents. She carried a colonial bouquet.

Mrs. Anita Parslow, sister of the bride, was matron of honor. The bridesmaids were Mrs. Cheryl Larkin, also a sister of the bride, and Miss Virginia Anderson, sister of the groom. Peggy Emery was flower girl. The girls all wore pink empire waist gowns and carried colonial bouquets. Francis Kendrick of Hollis was best man. Ushering were David Glover, brother of the bride, and Kenneth Anderson, brother of the groom.

The bride is a graduate of Bonny Eagle High School and is employed at Howard Johnson's in South Portland.

The groom attended Buxton schools and has served six years in the United States Army. He is employed by Cummings Brothers, Portland.

After a reception at Narragansett Temple in Buxton Center, Mr. and Mrs. Anderson left on a wedding trip to New Hampshire. They will reside in Scarborough.

The wedding cake was made and decorated by Mrs. Fay Milligan, an aunt of the bride. Miss Patti Betts circulated the guest book. Edith Emery was in charge of the gift table.
